THE INDIAN QUESTION.

INTERVIEWS AT THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

Secretary Schurz and Commissioner Hayt in Conference--The Probable Cause of the Failure.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Secretary Schurz, who dislikes to give up the idea of peace as long as a chance remains for bringing the Indians to terms, said with reluctance to-day that he feared the efforts to adjust the difficulties with the Utes through peaceable means were destined to result in failure. It was possible, he thought, that the situation might not be as grave as the dispatches indicated, but the latest advices from General Hatch did not hold out much encouragement for a satisfactory solution of the trouble. The Secretary had a long conference to-day with Commissioner Hayt regarding the course to be persued. Representative Belford, of Colorado, was at the Interior Department for some time, and as he is a believer in the policy that "the Utes must go," it is believed that he will exert his influence to have the Indians surrender a large part of their present reservation.

A prominent Indian office official said, in discussing the situation, that the failure of the commissioners to secure the Indians who participated in the White River massacre was partly attributable to the injudicious talk of Western Senators and Representatives. The Indians, while considering whether it was best to surrender the few guilty ones demanded by the commissioners, in some way received information that leading government officials had declared that their reservation was to be taken from them and they forced to move into a strange country. The Indians undoubtedly thought if this was so that nothing would be accomplished by surrendering a few of their chiefs, and so they determined to refuse the demand. But for the cry, "The Utes must go," this official believes that the guilty Indians would have been surrendered for trial, and a costly Indian war avoided. It is not believed here that the military can accomplish anything this winter, but that the Indians will divide up in small bands and find refuge among other tribes until warm weather, and then come together and go upon the war path.

Removing the Ammunition.

BANGOR, December 30.—Adjutant General Leavitt, acting under instructions from Governor Garcelon, to-day ordered the arsenal here to be opened for the purpose of removing arms. Several wagon loads of arms and ammunition have just passed through the streets unguarded and without molestation to the Maine central depot. Crowds of people are standing on the side-walks. The ammunition will go to Augusta by express on the evening train.

Another Attempt at Assassination.

MADRID, Dec. 30.—As the King and Queen of Spain were driving through the gate of the Royal Palace this evening, a young man dressed as a workman, fired a shot from a revolver at the royal carriage, but his aim missed and no one was hurt. The would-be assassin was immediately arrested. His name is Gonzales and his age nineteen years. He is a waiter by occupation, and a native of Galicia.

A Disappointed Crowd.

FREDERICKSBURG, Dec. 30.—In anticipation of General Grant's passing through this place on his southern route to Cuba, the mayor and most of the council and a large number of citizens, embracing many of our leading people, together with the city band, attended the early train this morning to pay their personal respects to the General and to wish him a safe and pleasant journey, and were much disappointed at his not being on the train.

Frozen to Death.

NEW YORK, December 30.—A special from Bismarck, Dak., says: "Dave Hall, John Gallagher, and a man called Missouri were frozen to death on the Northern Pacific Railroad extension on the 24th inst. They were walking in from Bad Lands, and it is feared that many others have met the same fate.

The thermometer has averaged fifteen degrees below Zero for two weeks past. Trains are blockaded, and all the business on the Northern Pacific is at a standstill.

From the Indian Country.

DENVER, Col., Dec. 29.—Up to this time nothing has been heard from the commission. Communication between Lake City and Los Pinos has not yet been broken, but there has been no news, official or unofficial, since Friday night. Hatch was to have left for Cline's ranche, thirty miles from Los Pinos, yesterday morning, but whether he left or stayed is not known. The anxiety is intense. There are fears of another massacre.

A Railroad Project.

NEW ORLEANS, December 30.—A special says that the Illinois Central Railroad officials have been reconnoitering the line of the New Orleans & Pacific, extending from this city to Shreveport. It is believed, with a view to its purpose, that the feeder to the New Orleans, Cairo & St. Louis Railroad, under the same control, is giving the line to Chicago from Shreveport under one management.

An Indian Cannibal Hanged.

WINNEPEG, Man., Dec. 30.—An Indian cannibal, Swift Runner, was executed at Fort Saskatchewan on the 20th instant, this being the first legal execution in the northwest territory. He was convicted on his own confession of having killed and eaten his mother and seven children during last winter.

The Tay Bridge Disaster.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The Queen has telegraphed the provost of Dundee tendering her condolence with the bereaved of the late terrible disaster. Only one body has been recovered so far, and that one is in a badly mutilated condition. Various accounts agree in placing the total loss of life at ninety persons.

Prefers His Own Judgment.

AUGUSTA, Me., Dec. 30.—It has been learned on good authority that the Governor has decided not to submit to the Supreme Court the questions propounded by Mr. Morrill.

Heavy Failure.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—J. Lloyd Haigh, ware manufacturer, has failed. Liabilities $300,000; nominal assets $450,000.

A Southern Invasion.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Gen. Grant and party left for Richmond at half-past five o'clock this afternoon, in Col. Tom Scott's private car. The Presidential party consisted of General and Mrs. Grant, General and Mrs. Sheridan, Colonel and Mrs. Grant, Miss Kitty Felt of Galena, and Byron Andrews of the Chicago Inter-Ocean. They will reach Richmond at 11 o'clock to-night, and are expected to be in Charleston on New Year's morning. From Charleston they go to Fernandina by way of Savannah, and at Fernandina they will embark for Havana in the steamer Alexandria, of New York and Havana line, which left New York on Saturday and will put in at Fernandina for them. General Sheridan will accompany the party as far as Havana, and his future movements will be governed by the course of events in the Indian country.

LATE NEWS NOTES.

Michael Davitt, the Irish agitator, has been released on bail.

William Hepworth Dixon, the historian and traveler, is dead.

The President of Peru is at Panama, en route for the United States.

Mrs. Clara Clairs, aged 103 years, was burned to death in New Orleans Friday by the explosion of an oil lamp.

Frank H. Kyte, a grocer at West Pittston, Pa., has been arrested, charged with obtaining goods amounting to several thousand dollars under false pretenses.

James G. Cadwallader has been arrested in Trenton, N. J., for violating the pension laws by retaining for his fees as pension agent more than ten dollars.

One of the mills of Laflin & Rand's powder works, near Newburgh, N. Y., exploded Saturday, badly burning Frank Wait, an employe.

There is a considerable rise in the Ohio river. At Cincinnati the wharves are flooded and the streets in the vicinity swamped.

The suit in the United States Court at New York against General John C Fremont, for $1,108, pay alleged to have been erroneously paid him as major-general in 1861, has been discontinued, it appearing that the error was merely technical.

A disastrous fire occurred in Boston Sunday night, destroying the paper warehouse of Rice, Kendall & Co., and involving adjacent buildings, including Houghton & Osgood's publishing house, the North National Bank and other structures. The loss is believed to exceed $5,000,000.

The steamer Prairie City blew up Saturday at Hodges landing, on the Wabash river, Ind. The fireman, cabin boy and a female cook are missing. The body of Captain McIntyre's wife was found on shore with both arms off. Captain Cox, who was at the wheel, had an arm broken. The survivors escaped on a barge in tow.

The United States steamer Nipsic, Commander C. M. Schoonmaker, now at Norfolk, Va., has been ordered to proceed without delay to Laguayra, Venezuela, to inquire into the circumstances attending the withdrawal or expulsion of Mr. Eckert, United States commercial agent at that port, from Barcelona, to which place he had been sent on public duty.

A meeting of Cubans was held in New York Saturday night, in the interest of "free Cuba." The speakers were General C. G. Ynigaz, commandant of the revolutionary forces, Colonel Pio Rosado and Juan Arnosa. Among those present were General Roloff, the Marquis of Santa Lucu and other distinguished Cubans.

The St. Louis Iron Mountain and Southern railway will construct an elevated track in St. Louis to connect with the Union depot. The project of bridging the Mississippi at Carondelet, six miles below St. Louis, is being revived. The Missouri Pacific and the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and other roads now transfer by ferry some three hundred cars daily, and the revival of iron manufacture at Carondelet will render a bridge necessary.

Five of the sailors of the steamer Volmer, which was to have sailed from New York Saturday for Havre, struck for higher wages, were locked up for mutinous conduct and reported to the police. The police refused to interfere unless to prevent bloodshed. The captain then compromised by promising to lay the matter before the Danish consul, under whose flag the steamer sails.

The walking match in New York ended Saturday night, with the following score: Hart 540½ miles, Krohne 534½, Pegram 527, Hughes 520½, Fitzgerald 520½, Williams 502½, Campana 500, Rae 480, O'Brien 484, Geldert 462, Clow 450, and Briody 450. Hart was loudly cheered as he buckled the champion belt about his waist and walked twice around the track. Hart looked almost as fresh at the finish as at the start. On his 500th mile Campana dropped into a chair at the judges' stand, thoroughly exhausted.

In Chicago Saturday, John M. Waite and M. D. Gould, prominent business men, thinking to play a practical joke upon a colored janitor, disarranged the contents of Mr. Waite's room, and then concealing themselves in a closet, waited until the janitor appeared. The latter becoming excited at the condition of the room, procured a revolver, and hearing a noise in the closet, tried to pull the door open, and failing in that fired through the door. The shot passed through Mr. Gould's head and he died shortly after. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict justifying the janitor and discharging him from custody.

In Springfield, Mo., on Friday night, John Vaughan, a stranger, entered the saloon of Herman Roberts, threw dice with Carson Appleby for drinks, lost and having no money, had a quarrel with Roberts, drew a pistol and shot Roberts dead. He then attacked Appleby, but he escaped. Vaughan fled, but was pursued by mounted men, captured, and, after a narrow escape from lynching, lodged in jail.

The large clothing store of Dutton & Rhodes, in New York, took fire Saturday night, and the following losses resulted to different occupants of the buildings: Dutton & Rhodes $35,000; E. Duetsch & Son, tobacco, $8,000; R. D. Rolph's glue factory $2,000; Morris O'Brien, upholstery, $500. The building is owned by the Astor estate, and was damaged $2,000.

The Electric Light.

Professor John C. Draper was asked one day by a Herald reporter what he thought of the division of the electric light. "I have no right to express my opinion," said he in substance, "because I have not yet been able to thoroughly study the subject. But the thing seems possible and Edison deserves encouragement. When I know more about what he is working at, I will talk about it." Such a speech as this, from a man who is himself famous for hard work and scientific discoveries, stands in pleasing contrast to the carping counter-claims and doubts of those who are prompted to speak against Edison by either jealousy or ignorance.

The Fire Record.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30.—A special from Sherman, Texas, to the Times, reports the burning of the Opera House and the adjoining buildings in that place. The loss is estimated at $40,000. Insurance $20,000.

GRANT AND A THIRD ---

THE SPHINX OPENS HIS MOUTH AND TALKS.

Before Departing for the South on Saturday He Tells a Reporter How He Stands.

Philadelphia Record.

Among the select few of the intimate friends of General Grant who were permitted to shake him a cordial adieu at the Continental Hotel on Saturday was a Record reporter. Seizing the opportunity, the news-man took the General aside and said:

"General, I have an important question to ask you, and you needn't answer if you don't want to commit yourself."

"Well," said the General, in his usual brief way.

"General—now, remember, you are not compelled to answer—do you think you could stand a third——?"

"Why," broke in the General. "I just had an idea that that cold wave would not reach us."

"Yes; but, General," continued the reporter, "it's a serious matter. If there was to be offered you a third ——"

"There, there—hear Sheridan's baby crying? I tell you it's a darling," blurted out the General.

"Ah! yes; I like babies. I love babies, General. But, then, to resume. If Don Cameron was to come in here and say: 'General Grant, in the name of the people, who desire to know, I offer you a third——'"

"Do you know I think that equestrian picture of me over the Independence Hall entrance is the finest specimen of animal painting I ever saw?" put in the General, quickly; "I've been all over the world, and I've seen myself pictured in all sorts of attitudes, but that beats the deck."

"Say, General, while you were traveling, did any one ever say anything to you about a third——"

"I think, candidly, that Cincinnati beats Philadelphia on arches. Indeed, I do," coolly remarked the General, warding off the reporter's question. "They had one out there that looked like a broken-back ellipse. 'Pon my word it did."

"Ah! now you are coming to the point, General," exclaimed the reporter; "what would be the effect of a third——"

"Chicago is a great place, sir. They guarantee to drive in a pig at one end of the town and turn him out in fifty yards of sausage in five minutes at the other. And if any pig doesn't believe it he can try it himself."

"You are witty, General; you are brilliant. But, aside from pigs, there is that important and sole subject looming up before you are of a third ——"

"A third—a third what?" roared the General, drawing from his vest pocket a pine wood toothpick and calmly proceeded to put it to its disgusting purpose.

"General, I have been requested to ask you if you can smoke a third cigar before breakfast. That's all," said the reporter.

"Well, now," replied the General, calmly, as his face was hidden in a cloud of smoke; "I was afraid you were going to ask me about a third ——"

"Now, General, go slow; do not commit yourself," said the reporter, warningly.

"Yes, but," added the General "from San Francisco to Philadelphia every reporter who had the cheek has asked me how I stood on the third——."

"Lookout, General, you'll burst the boom," cried the Record man.

"No; now hold," said the General; "they asked if the third cocktail in the morning was not as depressing in its effects as the first was exhilarating. That's all!"

"Shake! Good-by, old boy! Keep that to yourself," cried the reporter, as he slid down the baluster; "don't give it away how you stand on a third ——."

FORSYTHE.

WINSTON, Dec. 27.—Christmas passed off quietly, being to us, in point of weather, the most unpleasant imaginable, for it rained at intervals in torrents until night, being quite warm and muddy beyond description. Christmas night about 10 o'clock the weather changed from extremely warm to extremely cold. An old gentleman said to-day that this was the most sudden change known to him, except one that happened when he was a boy. He had gone to mill in his "shirt sleeves and bare-footed," and before his grist of corn was ground, so sudden was the change, the pond froze over, catching the hogs' heads above water, and he amused himself by skating along and kicking their heads off. Friday was a blue day, everything being frozen up.

Christmas eve the young men and boys enlivened the streets extensively by a continuous and multifarious explosion of combustibles of every description.

Christmas day was too rainy for anything and consequently it was comparatively quiet.

At night the Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal Sabbath Schools assembled and enjoyed the pleasures of Christmas trees. The one in the Presbyterian church was magnificent and grand under the weight of many valued and handsome presents. Major T. J. Brown, the efficient superintendent, and Colonel A. B. Gorrell handed the presents to the delighted students, while our young friend Tom Wilson called them by name. The roll was quite a long one, too, showing the school to be prosperous. The school then proceeded to the Winston Male Academy where they enjoyed themselves in various amusements. The Methodist Episcopal Christmas tree was a fine one we are told and quite a crowd met to enjoy it. One gentleman in clipping presents attempted to climb it, causing it to fall and thereby spoiling the beauty of the scene somewhat, but all enjoyed it finely. There may have been others that we have not heard of.

Good order for the most part prevailed. It is thought that more firecrackers, roman candles, etc., were burned this Christmas than in all preceding combined.

Among the festivities, sadness invaded our midst in the death of a son of Mr. J. A. Robinson, the editor of the Leader. One year ago Mr. Robinson came to Winston comparatively a stranger, and under very unfavorable auspices located and began the publication of the Leader, and with the energy and perseverance constituting the true editor, he has surmounted all difficulties, brought his paper to the front rank, making it truly a newsy sheet and of more than ordinary size. Last Monday he closed the year's work, laboring hard and giving us an unusually full copy and retired to his cozy little home, feeling, doubtless, happy in the well merited reward his energy and industry had earned, when death made its unwelcome appearance and cast a gloom over that household by robbing it of one of its fairest flowers, little Jimmie, his little three-year old boy, diphtheria being the fatal disease. We deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

Friday evening the Winston Light Infantry accompanied by a very large number of our citizens marched out to the suburbs of the town to compete in marksmanship for two silver cups offered by Capt. G. M. Mathes of the Sentinel, and Mr. R. J. Reynolds, one of our large tobacco manufacturers to the one making the three best shots at one hundred yards distance. Colonel A. B. Gorrell and Capt S. E. Allen acted judges, and awarded the prizes to Messrs. Wm. Fowler and Wm. Lineback, though Mr. Nick Barham made the best single shot.

C. B. Watson, Esq., made a short address in behalf of the donors, and J. C. Buxton, Esq., responded in behalf of the committee. Three lusty cheers were given by the crowd for the W. L. I. and three by the committee for the donors.

All things considered the shooting was remarkably good, as many had never before fired their guns; and one soldier asserted that he had never killed anything but a bull-frog and a sparrow.

The darkies had a contest in Hinshaw's Hall Christmas evening as to who could walk with the most grace and ease, the Rev. Parson Ferraby being the graceful winner. At night they had a Christmas tree and supper. Friday night the colored Masons had a festival.

Since the above was written Mr. J. A. Robinson received a dispatch informing him that Dr. Pascall, his wife's father, was very ill and was not expected to live but a short time, also that her brother had been thrown from a horse and was badly injured. They leave for Oxford this evening.

Major Wade Hampton, Jr.

Charleston News and Courier.

The announcement of the death of Major Wade Hampton, Jr. was read with genuine regret by a large number of our people, whose hearts will go out in warm sympathy to his bereaved young wife and his beloved father in this hour of their affliction.

Major Hampton was the eldest son of Senator Hampton by his first wife, Miss Preston. He was born near Columbia, and was brought up under the personal care of his father. The outbreak of the late war found him at the South Carolina University just on the eve of graduating. Like most of the young men of that day he was eager to obey the call to arms, and at once volunteered with the Congaree Troop, a cavalry company raised by Captain M. C. Butler, and subsequently attached to the Hampton Legion. He went with the Legion to Virginia and served for a time on the staff of Gen. Hampton, his father. He was soon, however, ordered to report to Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, upon whose staff he served throughout the entire war, occasionally serving with his father when Gen. Johnston was not on active duty.

Major Hampton was in all the principal engagements around Richmond, and when Gen Johnston was assigned to the West, followed him there and remained with him until the surrender. He was wounded at the Battle of Burgess Mill on the 28th of October, 1864, while bending over the body of his younger brother, Preston, who was killed in that engagement.

At the close of the war Major Hampton settled in Mississippi and devoted himself to agricultural pursuits. He was, however, elected a member of the State Legislature. Last fall he married Miss Feelan, an accomplished lady of Memphis. In war he was, like his father, a lion; in peace a modest, kind hearted cultivated gentleman. His sudden taking off on the very threshold of a bright and happy manhood will cause a pang of regret to all who honor virtue and worth.

Alleged Gold in North Carolina.

A "Tar Heel" correspondent of the New York Sun writes to that paper as follows:

To the restless inventive activity of the renowned magician of Menlo Park, whose experiments and discoveries require the procuring of minerals requisite for special chemical combinations, we North Carolinians are greatly indebted. Our State has recently been visited by mining experts from the Far West, who find it rich in mineral resources, but poor in vigorous enterprise. Many important discoveries are already reported, and among the most notable are those made at a place called the Hunnicutt, situated in Rowan county, close to the old town of Gold Hill, where immense veins of gold-bearing ores have been found.

The peculiar characteristics of the largest of these lodes in the soft, disintegrated nature of the rock, which crumbles on exposure, and its exceeding richness in the precious metal; the mass is of great extent, with an average width of over twenty-eight feet, placing it foremost among the largest known gold depositories, from which fact it has been appropriately named "The Grant." There are many other veins which present all the indications of being true fissures, with hills that will largely repay hydraulic treatment, and hollows rich in placers. Were such discoveries made elsewhere at this time, they would quickly command attention, but our people are too lazy to stoop down for the wealth that lies under their feet.

Earl of Appomattox or Duke of Galena.

Cincinnati Commercial, Rep.

General Grant, it is said, visits Washington incognito. The phrase must have come from some fool friend of his, for it smacks of royalty, and a flavor of that kind would not help the boom. When kings travel incognito they are generally dukes. The Prince of Wales when in this country was Baron Renfrew—that is, he did not carry along his official grandeur. The Empress Eugenie was pleased to be the Duchess of Pierrefonds. It is suggested that General Grant, in order to avoid "princely receptions" and that sort of thing, should travel in the South as the Earl of Appomattox or Duke of Galena.

The Journal of Industry.

Wilmington Review.

O. Hunter, Jr., of the Raleigh Journal of Industry, has been spending Christmas among his friends in this city. He called in to see us this morning, and in the course of conversation we were glad to find that his paper is still disposed to maintain the strong ground it has taken in opposition to the exodus of the negroes from North Carolina. We trust that his excellent journal may continue to flourish and will meet that success which is so eminently its due.

Early Flowers.

New Berne Democrat, 30th.

On yesterday we were shown some white spiræa in full bloom, an amaryllis, a pansy, a white hyacinth, golden bell, violets and winter honeysuckle. When it is remembered that all these blossomed in the open air with no extra care or protection, then our Northern friends can form some estimate of the mildness of this climate.

AN AMERICAN BAALBEC.

ALADDIN'S LAMP IN NORTHWEST PENNSYLVANIA.

The Magic City that Arose Under the Wand of an Oily Magician Wiped out of Existence.

New York Sun

PITHOLE, Pa., Dec. 24.—"In that seat there by the stove," said the conductor, pointing to a man with patched pantaloons and a slouch hat with a lock of hair sticking through a hole in the top—"sitting there, with one arm on that oil-cloth carpetbag with the black worn off, is one-third of the population of the great city of Pithole."

"Shall I introduce you? Mr. Johnson, Mr. Perkins," etc.

"Then you are about all there is left in Pithole?" I remarked, as I sat down behind the man.

"No, thar's twice as many as me thar. The Fergusons and Hunts, they are thar yet. Pithole suits them; they're farmers. They are plowing up the streets, and raising potatoes and corn where the postoffice and opera house were. Stop off at Oilopolis with me, and I'll take you over to see the ruins, if you'll furnish the team."

"All right, I'll do it," I said, and in two hours the horses pulled us from Oleopolis to the modern ruin of Pithole. Palmyra and Thebes are justly celebrated as very ancient ruins, but Pithole, Pa., is probably the grandest young ruin in the world. Here was a great city which was founded, grew to opulence, fell, and whose streets are now onion and cabbage patches—all within fifteen years. Why, it took those slow-coach Egyptians two thousand years to make such a ruin as this! Such is American enterprise.

"When did you come here?" I asked Mr. Johnson, who acted in the capacity of both founder and guide to the ruins.

"I'm a carpenter, you know," he said. "I came here in 1865, to help put down the first well for the United States Petroleum Company on the Holmden farm. The country around here was almost uninhabited. The ground was stony, and the fields were full of pine stumps."

"Did you strike oil?"

"I should say we did. We struck a 'flow-er.' She threw a thousand barrels of oil into the air a day. As soon as she 'flowed' the speculators went off in the night and bought the farm of Tom Holmden at a low figure. Lord! when he came to see the well the next morning didn't he feel bad, though!"

"What was the effect of the thousand barrel well?" I asked.

"Why, it seemed to set the whole neighborhood crazy. The whole oil region turned out and came up here. Soldiers with pockets full of money, just discharged from the army, came pouring in with the rest. In fact Tom Holmden's farm, in less than forty-eight hours, looked as if it had ten circuses on it. You never saw such scrambling. And prices! Why, you never heard of such prices. Twenty wells were under way in a week. Machinery had to be drawn through the mud from the station, on the Miller farm, four miles distant. Thousands of barrels of oil, worth $5 a barrel, had to be drawn through the mud. Farmers rushed in with teams for fifty miles around. Contractors paid $100 for drawing an engine four miles through the mud. Fifteen dollars a ton for drawing coal. Ten dollars for taking a trunk. Farmers got ten dollars for carrying one passenger. Two and three dollars were paid for meals, and five dollars for a bed. Dollars were as common as nickels are now. Why, I could make $25 a day carpentering. I got $650 for building a one-story building, and I did the work with four men in a day and a half. I got $45 for putting up some shelves for a druggist, and did the work in thirty minutes. Nails were fifteen cents per pound, and lumber $300 a thousand. Farmers tore down their fences for miles around, and sold them to the crazy oil operators. Great guns! how the merchants poured in! and what prices they got; $35 for a pair of boots, and a dollar for a drink of whisky. Fortunes were made and lost in a day. Hundreds of wells went down and were sold at fabulous prices, afterward ending in dry holes."

"How were the wells usually sold?" I asked.

"They were divided into 'sixteenths.' Thousands of soldiers, farmers, and business men were inveigled into buying these 'sixteenths.' Some made fortunes and more lost all. Speculators paid $500 for the refusal of a 'sixteenth' next to a producing well, telegraphed to New York or Philadelphia and made several thousand dollars in a few hours. A sixteenth of a well often sold for $20,000 cash. Millions of dollars came floating into Pithole. Hotels went up like magic. Theaters sprang into being. Murphy built a shanty, got a dance woman by the name of Mme. Brignoli, and oil men would throw fifty-dollar bills at her feet. Streets sprang into line. Within sixty days thirty pretty bar-maids were holding forth at a free and easy, 7 First street, all in a rude board room, 30 by 60."

"When did Pithole culminate?"

"Well, she started in June, 1865, and in June, 1866, she was a full-fledged city, with 15,000 people, with criminals, policemen, clergymen, churches, schools, and the third largest postoffice in the State of Pennsylvania. Why, Postmaster Hill had seven clerks, and to get a letter, you had to stand in a postoffice row for half an hour. We had a Mayor, a City Council, and daily newspapers."

"Did you have any good buildings?" I asked.

"Certainly. The Duncan House, on First street, cost $30,000. The Chase House cost over $60,000. Handsome business blocks went up, gas was put in, the streets were sewered, and I tell you, we were a great city. People paid $2.50 for a seat in a variety show, and the town was filled with dance women and minstrels.

"When did the decay come?"

"Oh, in 1867 we began to go down. Afterward utter ruin came upon us. The oil wells stopped flowing, and we were ruined. They took down the Duncan House and moved it over to Oil City, and the Chase House, which cost $60,000, was sold for $60. Many men burnt up their houses in 1867 to get the insurance, until no insurance company would take a risk in Pithole. In fact, everybody left Pithole as rats leave a sinking ship. The people who ran away from Pithole built up Shamburg, Titusville, Oil City and Tidioute."

I walked around Pithole, as I once walked Pompeii. The city is literally deserted. The houses are all tottering or fallen. Window panes are gone. No painter or glazier has been seen here for ten years. Fourth street, once a thriving business street, has entirely disappeared. King's hardware store has gone, the Record office has disappeared, the sidewalks have rotted away, and barren desolation meets me on every side. On the hill, where the Athenæum used to be filled with a shouting audience who gathered to throw money at the feet of Maud Santley and a score of Black Crook dancers, I could see piles of potato vines, where the farmer had dug his crop. Where Murphy's Theater once stood, and where the manager often took in as high as $2,000 during an evening, are bunches of burdocks and two old sandstones which denoted the corners.

"How many families are here now?" I asked Mr. Johnson, as I looked around at the ruins.

"Three—only three; and still we represent all the political parties in the field. I'm a Democrat, Ferguson is a Greenbacker, and Hunter is a Republican. Don't often happen, does it, that a founder of a city can take you around and show you the very ruins that he built himself? I tell you—why, damn it, of course nobody doubts but the Colliseum and Pantheon are grand old ruins, but when you talk about young ruins—splendid young ruins—Pithole can buck up 'gainst any on em!"

ELI PERKINS.

FOR A WOMAN'S HAT.

A Man Determined to Back His Wife With His Entire Fortune.

The following episode of the recent Seventh Regiment fair in New York is reported: I heard of one man who spent $2,500 on raffles alone. The spirit of rivalry runs high when there is a prize offered for the table or the lady who takes in the most money. On the last night of the fair an illustration of this feeling occurred. Dunlap sent up a case of hats as a present to the fair, and two order-books. The idea of the order-books was that any one could buy an order on Dunlap for a hat, redeemable at any time. The fair sold them for the regular price, and the maker allowed the trade discount. To make the game more exciting, he offered a prize of a handsome lady's hat to the lady who should get the most orders. Two were found to take hold at once. One backed out after she had taken two orders, and handed her book over to another young lady, transferring the orders she had taken with it. This made the other lady very angry, and she called the proceeding "cheating," and told her husband all about it. Like a good husband, he sided with his wife, and vowed that she should not be euchred in that way, so he bought two orders of her himself. This incensed the young man of the young lady who held the other book, and he immediately bought four orders. Then the husband flew into a passion, and swore that his wife should win that hat, come what may, and he bought more orders. The young man who could ill afford it, did the same. The husband lost his head at this, and, jumping upon the counter of his wife's booth, began to denounce the other side. His friends dragged him down. Then he seized a pen and ink and wrote off a check for $184, and handed it to the cashier, which, being a rich man, he could well afford. The young man was almost in despair. His young lady begged him to stop; said that she didn't want that hat; but his blood was up. He rushed into the supper room, and found fifteen men whom he knew eating and drinking, particularly the latter. He dragged them all out, and they gave their orders to the young lady. The husband became livid. "You might as well give up this game at once," said he, "for I am determined to have that hat if it takes my entire fortune." The young man didn't want to give up the fight, and the fifteen men from the supper room cheered him on. By this time it was nearly 3 o'clock in the morning, and the authorities interfered and locked the order books up in the safe.

Grandma's Christmas Tree.

New Orleans Democrat.

An incident occurred recently at an up town Christmas gathering which is entitled to some notice. A kind-hearted old lady, the petted "grandma" of the household, assumed the all-important task of preparing for the little ones the traditional Christmas tree. After consuming nearly a whole day in purchasing an assortment of toys and other little presents to deck the graceful branches of the miniature pine that had been erected under the supervision in the center of the parlors, she discovered, to her sorrow, that she had forgotten to buy her quota of wax candles, and quickly throwing on her bonnet and shawl, she hastened to complete her outfit.

Returning in a short while, she was soon busily engaged hanging the candles here and there, on every pendant bough and branch. Her task completed, a hurried glance around the tree assured her that everything was in readiness for the little folk, and, seizing a match, the good dame lit one candle and then another, until startled by a whizzing sound, she turned and—horror of horrors!—the sight that met her astonished gaze almost appalled her. Around her favorite tree, Vesuvius like, her candles were belching forth hissing flames of fire and brimstone. The old lady swooned. There was a half-uttered cry of agony; the house was in confusion, and the boys and girls had no Christmas tree that night. Grandma had bought an invoice of "nigger-chasers" for toy candles.

Look Out for 'Em.

Boston Herald.

A pair of old geese were killed up in Putney, Vt, a few days ago, and, as they have been shipped to the Boston market, I want to warn the public to look out for 'em, through the columns of the Herald. "Them" geese are too tough to eat, and I think you will agree with me when I tell their history. When Burgoyne sent Col. Baum to capture the stores which the Americans had collected at Bennington, Vt., they were met and were badly whipped by Col. Stark, who commanded the New Hampshire militia. After the battle these same geese were taken from the knapsack of a British soldier who had been killed in the conflict. These fowls had been stolen by the soldiers from an old farmer in Bennington by the name of Baxter. They were given back to the owner by order of Col. Stark. They were kept in the Baxter family 40 years and were sold to parties in New Hampshire. Since 1814 they have been traded off to a score of parties, till they finally got back to Bennington in 1846. In 1854 a man by the name of Shordle took the geese to Putney, where they were killed as above stated. Old people in Putney vouch for what I have written, and are ready to prove that the old birds are too old to be eaten, to say the least.

White Deer in Virginia.

Richmond State.

It is well known that white deer have been killed in Dinwiddie county for two years past. The first seen was considered a lusus naturæ, but this year a number have been seen. Last season one was killed on the land of C. J. Cabaness, Esq., near Darvill's. Recently another was shot by Mr. Samuel Jefferson, in his bed. The shot put out the deer's eyes, hurting him but little otherwise. Mr. Jefferson, in his efforts to secure him, mounted him as he would a colt, but the deer threw him off with great violence. He had to shoot him again to secure him. The skin, with hair on it as white as snow, has been dressed and is preserved as a memento of a rare species of the deer genus. Can sportsmen and naturalists tell us if this white species is found elsewhere?

Murder in Duplin.

Wilmington Star.

Between two and three weeks ago, in the lower part of Duplin county, near the Lenoir county line, a difficulty occurred between two brothers named Thomas and Warren Malpass and a man named John Lewis Holland, during a shooting-match between the parties, which culminated in a fight, and, while Warren Malpass and Holland were struggling together, Thomas Malpass cut Holland with a knife, inflicting a terrible wound, from the effects of which the stricken man has since died, a jury of inquest having been held over the body last Sunday, the 21st instant. The place of the difficulty was near one Windell Davis' mill, about fifteen miles from Kenansville. Holland is said to have been sober at the time, but the Malpass brothers, who bear a very bad reputation, were drinking. Deceased leaves a wife and several children. There had been no arrests up to within the past two days, the Malpass brothers having fled the country.

DAILY NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1879.

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

THE Baltimore Sun says that holders of gas stocks refuse to be frightened by Edison's discoveries, and sarcastically adds that "so long as meters are used the business is safe."

SPEAK gratefully of dying '79. It brought back to us prosperity.—New York Tribune.

Yes, we are getting along very well. After getting rid of Northern thieves who had nothing else to do but sit in legislature and issue State bonds, the proceeds of which they pocketed and went North to spend, we have done very well indeed. Dying '79 brought us a good cotton crop, and it did not take the whole cotton crop to pay bogus taxes, either.

LAST week General G. K. Warren, who commanded the Fifth Corps at Five Forks and was removed from his command for alleged inefficiency, made a survey of the old battle field for the purpose of establishing certain facts and positions to be shown in the rehearing that has been granted him. He will undoubtedly be successful in his claim, as one by one the military quacks have to step one side and such generals as Porter and Warren (and Wright, also, if he had not died before he had a chance to say one word in his defense) take their well earned positions once more.

THE Cuban Junta is short of funds one more and "Cuba Libre!" resounds in New York. Anyone that looks at the matter coolly will see at once that the handful of revolutionists do not stand the ghost of a chance of gaining control of the island—in fact the so-called revolution bears about the same strength as is displayed by the forty or fifty "moonshiners" that carry on the "blockade" war against the Government. All that the revolutionists appear to be able to do is to burn an occasional sugar ranche and at the approach of troops run. This contributing money for such a cause amounts to just as much as contributing to the Fenian "skirmishing fund."

MR. GROW'S third method of settling the Maine controversy does more credit to his heart than to his head. Expect a Democrat to resign an office which had been filched! That is a degree of self-respect to which no Democrat, whether down East or down South, would ever plead guilty.—New York Tribune.

It could hardly be expected that the Tribune would allow that a Democrat has more self-respect than the present Chief Magistrate of the Nation and one of his constitutional advisers at present possess When the highest official of the land sets an example, it is generally considered laudable to follow it. At present, however, the filching business rests with the Republicans. Mr. Hayes stole the Presidency and was aided in the scheme by Secretary Sherman and Justice Bradley. Governor Garcelon has merely complied with the laws enacted by a Republican legislature twenty years ago. The Tribune has been howling for law and order in the South; now it has a taste of law and order in the North it doesn't like the dose.

IT has been stated that several prominent Democrats notably Senator Cockrill, of Missouri, and Senator Eaton, of Connecticut, have advised the leading Democrats of Maine to recede from the position they have taken in the election matter, on the ground that it will injure the party in the North in the next Presidential canvass if any blood is shed as the result of Governor Garcelon's action. This, we take it, is a thoroughly undemocratic view. If the laws are to be upheld they might as well be upheld in Maine as in North Carolina or any Southern State, and any party that deviates from the right thinking that partisan advantages will accrue therefrom will find that in the long run it will be beaten—and deservedly. If Governor Garcelon is in the right, and at the present time there is nothing to show that he is not, he should be supported by all parties; if he is in the wrong, and that can be very easily decided by existing statutes, he should be legally squelched. This proposition to back down is characterized by conservative Democrats as cowardly, in view of the fact that Governor Garcelon is but fulfilling his oath of office to obey the law and the constitution of his State. The Boston Globe's expose was sufficient to convince any candid person that the Republicans carried Maine against the fusionists only by sheer fraud and bribery, and Senator Blaine, of course, feels as mean at being found out as he did in the Credit Mobilier case before he stole the Mulligan letters.

TO-MORROW the colored people of this city and vicinity celebrate the act of Emancipation. They have made careful preparation and will undoubtedly carry out the programme with all the earnestness for which their race is noted. The Emancipation proclamation may properly be classed as an epoch in the history of slavery; by a few strokes of the pen, a war measure at that, a race of bondsmen were set free. At first they knew not what to do with themselves; but time has sobered them and shown them that they must depend upon their own exertions and not expect to lead the lagging, lazy life of slavery days. Understanding this they have set to work and made notable improvement in their condition. Some, to be sure, have been smitten with the exodus fever, but a year North will show them that they will not be classed as gods; that their servitude in that country to which they are alien by condition of birth and climate will be harder than their labor among those who have known them from birth. The prominent men of their own race know this, and it is only the most ignorant that swallow the promises of designing men. However, to-morrow will be a gala day for them. Addresses will be made by the Governor and several prominent gentlemen of the State. A fine programme is announced, which will be found in another column, and which will be carried out in its entirety. There will be only one thing lacking, and that is reporters from the "trooly loil" Northern press to witness the overthrow of the procession by the rifle clubs that are stated to abound this heathen land.

"UNITED WE STAND."

The New York News, edited by Ben. Wood, brother of the Hon. Fernando, takes John Kelly to task in vigorous style. The address is quite lengthy, but the gist of it, so far as national politics are concerned, is given below. Whether or no it was worth the while for Mr. Wood to devote much time to lecturing Mr. Kelly remains to be seen, for we think the sharp lessons that the latter received at the hands of Mr. Tilden would cause him to reflect on his course and aid in arriving at a satisfactory clearing away of the old differences.

As the case stands now Mr. Kelly is weaker than he was six months ago. He arrayed himself in arms against Mr. Tilden, and lost first the mayoralty and then the county officers. He had flouted Tammany in the face of the regular Democratic organization. Tammany lost its bread and butter (and by the way Tammany ward politicians will not work without they have a chance at the spoils) and the regular Democratic nominees in the county took the places. And it is not at all unlikely that the talk of compromise arises as much from this fact as any other cause. If Mr. Kelly wishes to retain control of Tammany he has got to feed it, and he cannot do this without the fat berths attached to the county patronage. Mr. Wood speaks very plainly and gives some sound advice:

For the defeat of the Democratic ticket last November you are exclusively responsible, since you not only inspired the revolt in Tammany Hall, but withdrew from the Syracuse Convention, and organizing another, accepted its bogus nomination for Governor.

Though your avowed purpose was accomplished in the election of a Republican Governor, you equally contributed in defeating every State candidate that you honestly professed to support. The attitude which you assumed while naturally inviting and securing the co-operation of disappointed and unprincipled Democrats throughout the State, dispirited the more intelligent and conscientious, and the demoralization thus occasioned imparted confidence and insured triumph to the common enemy.

The Democracy of this city indeed rebuked your design, by the vote recorded for Lucius Robinson, and signally repudiated your candidates for county offices who had erroneously calculated upon Republican sympathy as the wages of political apostacy.

Such disastrous results, growing out of existing dissensions, you must, on reflection, deplore; for, though regarded as an arbitrary and injudicious leader, it is not disputed that you possess personal integrity and Democratic instincts. It is within the scope of your political ambition—to sacrifice animosities and prejudices, and devise some fair and honorable basis for the consolidation of the Democratic party.

Unless such a wise policy is promptly initiated by Tammany Hall, its judgment and motives will be justly impugned by Democrats throughout the Union. The consolidation of rival organizations in the Empire City would not merely inspire Democratic confidence in the approaching Presidential struggle, but protect its municipal government from the schemes of a Republican Legislature ever anxious to acquire and retain power through the desperation and selfishness of Democratic factions.

A Farmer's Trials.

Correspondence of the News.

SWIFT CREEK, Dec. 30, 2:30 A. M.—I am going to tell you some of my experiences as a farmer on a small scale. I work seven regular monthly hands and five horses, with innumerable cows, goats, ducks, pigeons, geese, guinnies, chickens, etc. When I came out here two years ago I thought it would be the jolliest of all the jolly lives I had lived (and you know some of them have been in "pastures green"), but I find that a good farmer has less spare time and less spare thoughts than that of any other trade. He has to be a doctor (of everything except divinity), a lawyer,, a mechanic, a publisher of news and a general student of animal nature. Then he has to consult the old negro wizards to know on which and what change of the moon to sow or plant. Onions one way, oats the other. Then you have the cleverest frosts just when you don't want them and the rain never comes when you need it, and the sower of seed just puts them all in lumps, and you get guano that don't exactly suit your land, and the cows are fond of your young corn; the blackbirds sing cheerful songs over your spring wheat and the minks take a notion to your chicken coop, and rats and bats and owls and frogs and the fox to keep you company during the night. Yet to a patient and silent man it is a clever life, for when you do happen to make any money, you have got it. There are the meanest cows in the country—cows that know a rail fence from the bottom to the top, and just as clever at letting it down as the smartest fence-maker was in putting it up, and hogs who know everything, boars who have tusks to rip off planks with, sows with their litters of pigs who are familiar with every jam or crack in a fence, and if there ain't one know how to root one, and your neighbors who keep egg-sucking dogs and don't keep any chickens to lay eggs to supply them in food. Yes, it is a pleasanter life than being editor of a lively newspaper who receives doleful contributions and poor pay from the farming community who have no reason to complain. S. T. G.

Lost their Dinner.

Wilmington Star.

On Sunday last, as Mr. George F. Tilley, residing on Third, between Walnut and Red Cross streets, was about to sit down to dinner, together with his family, they were all called out for a few minutes in the yard, leaving the house deserted. They soon after returned to the dining room to partake of the meal which had been prepared and placed upon the table, when they discovered to their chagrin that some thief—most probably a strolling tramp, had entered the house during their brief absence and stolen their dinner, even to the emptying of the butter dish, leaving only two or three biscuits to the family with which to stay their hunger until another meal could be prepared. Entrance must have been made through one of the side windows, which was found open, as both the front and back doors were locked, the only other way of ingress and egress being through the kitchen, entering by which the thief would have laid himself liable to certain detection. It was a daring theft, committed with wonderful speed and expertness, as the family were absent from the room but a few minutes.

Horrible Death.

Tarboro Southerner.

On Monday last Mr. William Revell, who attends to Captain R. H. Gatlin's mill and gin at Kiliquick in this county was crushed to death by the machinery in the most horrible manner. He had been talking to Capt. Gatlin only a few minutes before his death. He went under the gin house for some purpose, no one knows what. Soon afterwards Capt. Gatlin heard a knocking under the house and on going down to learn the cause, found Mr. Revells wound around the shaft that runs the gin and press, with his brains beaten out against the joist. Capt. Gatlin says Revells was an industrious, hard-working young man of about 28 years of age.

One Experience from Many.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, but when I told them what had helped me, they said: 'Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy.'"—The mother.

The Dying Year.

Like charms to lull the dying year,
The Christmas bells are pealing;
And hark! once more from yonder sky
The angels' song is stealing.
Full eighteen hundred years and more
That strain of peace and glory
Has come to glad the hearts of men,
To tell the Blessed Story!

Sing on, sweet angels, though your song
Floats down to scenes of sorrow;
Your bell of peace, good will to men,
Be this the strain we borrow;
For Christ whom ye proclaim is here,
And shall we naught afford him?
Yea, rather in his starving poor,
In love we owe restored Him.

Edison's Rival.

Edison is all very well in his way as the inventor that will be remembered when all others are forgotten is a party named Mickley, who has just rendered his fellow men an inestimable service by producing an appartus called the "Married Man's Indicator," or the patent "Domestic Barometer." This ingenious device is simply a wonderfully sensitive arrangement of the ordinary barometer which infallibly detects the most minute alterations in the atmospheric condition. The married man, returning late from the alleged "raise," or other locality contraband of law, indulges in no fearful speculation as to his reception. He simply takes his "indicator" from its case, and inserts a projection, arranged for the purpose, through the key-hole. Instantly the domestic temperature within is recorded by the dial. If it marks S. F.—set fair; S. A.—sound asleep; or even C. S.—cool but sleepy, he brings his proprietary box of fried oysters well to the front, chews a fresh clove and enters boldly. If however, the faithful little instrument reports S. B.—storm brewing; or V. S. L.—very squally, with lightning, he doesn't waste any valuable time in warfare, but hies him to the nearest hotel and sends an "up all night with a sick friend" note, with some matinee tickets and a new bonnet home in the morning. Truly, if science keeps on in this way, this world will become quite a comfortable place to live in after a while.

No More Hard Times.

If you will stop spending so much for fine clothes, rich food and style, buy good, healthy food, cheaper and better clothing, get more real and substantial things of life every way, and especially stop the foolish habit of employing expensive quack doctors, or using so much of the vile humbug medicine that does you only harm, but put your trust in that simple, pure remedy, Hop Bitters, that cures always at a trifling cost, and you will see good times and have good health. Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most startling, cleansing, and purifying agent in the world. It may be detected in the urine, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in from a few minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and can be carried to every part of the system. Forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Tetter, Ringworm, Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from adding my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease, I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage to longer to follow their advice—and right the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a crust on my scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.

MILFORD, Me., June 10, 1878.

VEST POCKET CURE
25 DYSPEPSIA 25
CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is indorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Editors Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney. LL. D., Col. Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperient without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Cont. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For prostration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in familie from indigestion. I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by Pescud, Lee & Co., and Williams & Haywood.

Index to New Advertisements.

W. H. MORRIS—Notice.
STRONACH & BELO—Commission Merchants.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——To-day is the last of 1879.

——New Year's calls will be in order to-morrow.

——Internal revenue receipts yesterday $531.37.

——Sheriff Nowell is still gathering in the taxes.

——Four marriage licenses were issued yesterday.

——Martin street is almost cleaned of cotton bales.

——Mr. Job Osborn has some fine horses for sale.

——Don't forget the Operetta at St. Mary's to night.

——Nothing for the reporter at the capitol yesterday.

——The hotels are preparing for their New Year's dinners.

——Police news light. The Mayor holds an empty court.

——Mr. D. R. Upchurch is expected home on Friday night.

——Dr. Lightfoot announces this as his last week in Raleigh.

——R. B. Andrews & Company announce a stock of fine overcoats.

——Attention is called to the advertisement of W. H. Morris, in relation to furniture.

——Local news is extremely scarce. Everybody has settled down since Christmas.

——M. Rosenbaum, corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets, has a new card this morning.

——See first page for the programme of the Emancipation celebration by the colored people to-morrow.

——A telegram from Captain Tim Lee announces that he is domiciled at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

——Thus far poor people have had little occasion to complain of increased expense on account of cold weather.

——To-morrow being New Year's Day the boys will probably make things lively with their horns to-night.

——Messrs. Jones, Green and Powell have new notices in this morning's issue, announcing coal at $6.50 per ton, delivered.

——The traveling public will be pleased to learn that Dr. Blacknall has concluded another five years' lease of the Yarboro House.

——A scaffolding has been erected in front of the State National Bank building and everything indicates that the painters are to have a job.

——W. H. Morris has removed his furniture establishment from the upper end of Fayetteville street to the NEWS building on Martin street.

——The NEWS regrets to learn that Mr. T. H. Selby, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, is dangerously ill at his residence in this city.

—— The sheriff stated that to-day is the last day that he can wait for delinquent tax-payers. If not paid to-day he proposes to run a series of auction sales.

——A postal from Smithfield to the NEWS states that the champion pig of the season for Johnston county, raised by D. W. Fuller, and twenty-one months old, was killed last Friday, the net weight being 521 pounds.

——The city gas works are nearly completed; the generator is in position and the pipes are laid from the street to the market house. Our citizens must wait patiently until the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen and see which will furnish the best quality of gas.

——It is certainly true that no person has ever regretted keeping a Diary throughout a whole year. There are often events which we would be glad to remember, but they are forgotten if not recorded. A fine assortment of Diaries for 1880 at Alfred Williams & Co.'s Bookstore. Prices from 20 cents to $2.50.

——This is regular May weather. It bears no resemblance to the fall, and if the trees were in leaf the days would be taken for spring days. Here on the closing days of December barefooted children may be seen running about the streets. Overcoats are at a discount, and our merchants who had in a stock of Ulsters haven't made fortunes from their sales.

——When you want a thing and don't happen to have it go to the grocery and commission store of Messrs. Stronach & Belo, on Wilmington street. This is the orthodox way ot putting it; but the right way to lo is to visit their store and after viewing their goods see if you don't want something. Anyway read their advertisement in this morning's issue.

Operetta To-Night.

There will be an operetta rendered at St. Mary's School this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. Tickets for sale at the bookstore of Alfred Williams & Company. The lateness of the hour at the reception of the NEWS office precludes an extended notice of it.

The Cantata Last Night.

Tucker Hall was crowded last evening to witness the rendition of the cantata of "Santa Claus." A full description of the scenes was given in yesterday morning's NEWS, so it is unnecessary to furnish a repetition. Everything went off smoothly as rehearsals had perfected each and all in their parts, and excellent stage management did the rest.

Young Men's Christian Association.

There was a good meeting of the Association last night. It was resolved to go to work at once to provide, as usual, wood and provisions for our poor. Owing to the very mild fall and winter, there has not been much suffering until now. A great deal is reported, and it is important that immediate and active measures be taken to relieve the wants of our worthy poor.

The following committees were appointed to collect funds from our citizens: John Pullen, Joseph G. Brown and John M. Sherwood.

On Petitions—W. S. Primrose and W J. Young.

On Wood—A. M. McPheeters.

The Executive Committee will appoint the distributors for the twelve districts of the city, and announce them in the papers of the city in a few days. Our citizens have always contributed liberally to the Association and will, no doubt, respond as liberally now as ever, as there is great need. Those who wish to do so can hand in their contributions to the members of the committee, at each of the banks in the city, or to the treasurer of the Association, Mr. W. S. Primrose, at the office of the N. C. Home Fire Insurance.

Mr. W. P. Batchelor was the winner and holds the gold medal until the next match.

Sad Death.

The Norfolk Landmark of yesterday announces the death of Miss Lizzie B. Morse, well known to our citizens as a lovely, accomplished and Christian young lady, one of the brightest ornaments of a once happy but now bereaved household, a great favorite in social circles, and an earnest and devoted member of the church of God.

The distressing event occurred about 8 o'clock Sunday morning, at the residence of her mother, on Queen street, and it was sudden and unexpected, although she had been suffering from consumption for some five or six months and her friends were aware that recovery was impossible.

Her Christian life was marked with great zeal, earnestness and devotion, while her purity of charater, personal attractions, rare conversational powers and varied accomplishments rendered her a great favorite in social circles, and won for her the love and esteem of all with whom she associated.

The funeral took place from the Granby Street M. E. Church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the spacious edifice was filled nearly to its utmost capacity.

Truck Planting.

Newberne Democrat, 30th.

Our truck farmers now are all as busy as they can well be preparing the land and in many instances planting their crops. We learn that upon one farm in this vicinity the peas are up and are looking thrifty, strong and green. We learn that it is the intention of many farmers to plant peas the present week. We sincerely hope that this spring may be a favorable one for trucking; if it is, it will be of incalculable permanent benefit in this section.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Oct. 29.—H. W. WARNER & Co., ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Gentlemen: "A lady of over seventy years of age, in failing health for over a year, has been using Warner's Safe Bitters on my recommendation. She feels very grateful for the benefit she has derived therefrom, and says that until she used it her stomach could bear no vegetable food for over three years. I believe it to be a certain specific for dyspepsia.

For the Holidays!

Brewster has just filled his store, especially for the season. Stop and examine his stock of fancy goods, toilet and cologne sets, vases, majolica ware tete a tete sets, toy tea sets, silver and fine plated ware. If you wish to make a nice present, we advise you to call on Brewster.

For the Xmas Holidays.

The attention of the public is respectfully invited to my fine assortment of new goods which have been ordered especially for the holiday trade. I can offer special inducements in the following lines: Childrens sacques and hoods, shetland shawl's, cloaks, white and colored bed blankets, white twilled flannel, large lot of balmoral skirts, ladies, gentlemens' satchels and zinc trunks, canton flannel, trimming, lace and neck ruffling cheap as ever. We ask an inspection of our assortment. Respectfully, M. Rosenbaum.

Large Sale.

J. L. Stone, general agent for the New Home Sewing Machine Company, sold 229 of these machines last month, being the largest purchase ever made in North Carolina by any one agent. He also sells other machines.

Pill Box.

I offer for sale my running horse Pill Box, who came from the plow last August, having made a crop, and ran with 2 weeks' handling against trained thoroughbred race horses of reputation, beating them in half mile, mile and two miles races, at the Raleigh and Weldon fairs. He is a bright bay, fine form, and remarkably stylish, and is a most excellent saddle and double harness horse, is (6) six years passed, perfectly sound. Also Flora and Dora, a pair dark bay mares, aged 5 and 6, of beautiful form, a match in color, size, and gait, sound, and not at all afraid of cars—an excellent coach team. And lastly Jack and Jim, a pair of bright bays, 6 and 8 years old. Jack is a bad runaway horse; Jim will not only run but kicks. This team is warranted as represented; special inducements will be offered a buyer. All at J. D. Whitaker's wood, coal and lumber yard, West Hargett St.

Political Issues.

Kearney's advice to all parties is to "pool their issues." We think a good deal as he does, that we should bury the dead issues of the past. As a healing compound for all issues, sores, wounds &c, there is nothing equal to Henry's Carbolic Salve. Beware of counterfeits.

Make a Note of This.

Professor Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Journal to the effect that after all other means had failed he sent for the Kidney Cure, (now Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterward found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for kidney diseases.

Exquisite Pleasure.

The most exquisite pleasure is derived from Dr. Price's Unique Perfumes. His Pet Rose, Meadow Flowers, Lily of the Valley and other handkerchief odors, are as fragrant and natural as the flowers from which they are made. They are truly delightful.

Good Living.

The secret of good living is of vast importance to all mankind. Every good liver knows this—but when the liver is bad, then take Rosadalis, the the great Southern Remedy, and Mott's Liver Pills. They are sure to restore you to health.

Well Known.

As it is known that Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts are not made up from chemical poisons, but natural flavors, delicate and grateful to the most cultivated palate, they are growing rapidly in popular favor. It is only necessary to try these flavors to be convinced that they are fine and pure.

Is It Any Wonder.

In view of the immense amount of adulterated baking powders used by the masses of people in food, is it any wonder that there are diseased gums, decayed teeth and disorders of digestion? To escape these evils, use Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, the only kind made by a Physician, with great care.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad Think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."
W. F. BARR, M. D.,
Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.
GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.,
New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.
G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D.,
Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.
E. O. GRIGSBY,
DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Price $1 per package or six for $5, sent by mail, postpaid.
LANDRUM & LITCHFIELD, tf Abingdon, Va.

Once Again.

J. M. Rosenbaum has just received nother lot of fresh goods.

Handmade Shoes, "such as the new style of French and English Toes. A new lot of Opera Cloaks. The third stock of the celebrated Pearl Shirts, from $1.00 to $1.25 and $1.35. My upstairs Clothing Department cannot be excelled. JOS. P. GULLY.

Practical Economy.

Before Patapsco Baking Powders was patented and placed on the market, consumers had to pay 50 cents per pound for the Old Rut Powders. You can now buy Patapsco for about one-half that amount. This accounts for the popularity of Patapsco.

"Well, there," said Spriggins, as he laid down the New York —— after studying the Weather Department map intently for fifteen minutes; "I am blamed if I believe there y man living that can make such shots as that on any billiard table in the world."

Why Will You

Allow a cold to advance in your system and thus encourage more serious maladies, such as Pneumonia, Hemorrhages and Lung troubles when an immediate relief can be so readily attained. Boschee's German Syrup has gained the largest sale in the world for the cure of Cough, Colds and the severest Lung Diseases. It is Dr. Boschee's famous German prescription, and is prepared with the greatest care, and no fear need be entertained in administering it to the youngest child, as per directions. The sale of this medicine is unprecedented. Since first introduced there has been a constant increasing demand and without a single report of a failure to do its work in any case. Ask your Druggist as to the truth of these remarks. Large size 75 cents. Try it and be convinced.
